

The United States labor market is slowly recovering from the pandemic

Unemployment has fallen by close to half since April, 2020 but is still far from pre-pandemic levels.

